Celeb styles for your clients

haute

for the holidays

Get clients into the seasonal spirit with these red carpet-inspired looks.

The holidays are in full swing and that means parties galore. From fancy galas to intimate soirees, your clients are going to want to look their best this season, and what better source of inspiration to draw from than one of the most glamorous events of the year—the Emmys? On this special night, Hollywood’s biggest stars took to the red carpet, sporting a myriad of stunning looks that clients will definitely covet. “Wet, slicked-back styles, center parts and natural texture were among the top looks to remember after the night was done,” says celebrity stylist Hasblady Guzman, who managed the manes of several Emmys attendees and presenters. “Glam waves, as seen on Jessica Biel and Emmy Rossum, were one of the most in-demand styles I created for my clients who walked the red carpet at the Emmys. Other standouts from the night included Yara Shahidi’s glossy curls, Nicole Kidman’s sophisticated chignon and Julianne Hough’s low textured ponytail. What’s great about these different styles is that they transition easily from the red carpet to any holiday party, so your clients can look and feel as glamorous as a celeb all season long!” From the latest hair essentials to beauty must-haves, we’ve got everything you need to make your client the star of every party this season.

THIS STARLET-INSPIRED STYLE WILL TURN HEADS AT ANY PARTY.

With chic retro waves swept to one side paired with a sultry part, Emmy Rossum's hair game stood out amongst the crowd. Channeling vintage vixens à la Veronica Lake, Rossum's finger waves boasted major volume and a glossy finish. Clients will covet this stunning style for all their festive celebrations.
